

THE CLIMAX.

FRENCH TIFTON, - - - Editor.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY BY

The Climax Printing Co.

WM. G. WHITE, CHAS. S. POWELL.

PRICE PER YEAR, $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1889.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

August Election, 1890.

FOR STATE TREASURER,

STEPHEN G. SHARPE,

of Fayette county.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,

W. B. SMITH.

FOR CONGRESS,

B. DUDLEY MILLER.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic Committees of the counties of Estill, Rockcastle and Madison are hereby called to meet at Richmond on Saturday, July 20, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Senate in the Twenty-ninth District, the Hon. A. T. Chenault having declined to accept the nomination of the Mr. Vernon Convention.

C. D. CHENAULT,

District Chairman.

N. B.—The Democrats of Madison are also requested to meet at the Court house on the same day for important business.

C. D. C.

Ex-Auditor D. Howard Smith, died suddenly in Louisville, Monday.

Congressman McCreary used Mr. Colson up at Shelbyville, one day, last week, and is now making a tour of the State in behalf of Judge Sharp.

The widow of President Tyler died at Richmond, Va., on last Wednesday, and was buried beside her husband in Hollywood Cemetery, Friday.

Johnstown, New York, was visited by a flood, last Wednesday, a stone bridge went down, and a number of people were drowned. What is the matter with the Johnstons, any how?

A referee in the Sullivan-Kill rain fight and the man on whose head the fight occurred have surrendered to the Mississippi authorities. Warrants have been issued for the Queen & Crescent road.

A Georgian named Bell, who claims to be the Son of God, is creating alarm in his locality by announcing that on August 16th the world will come to an end. The White Caps should visit Georgia.

Sullivan was arrested on a telegram from the Governor of Mississippi, when he reached Nashville, but was released on a writ of habeas corpus. He then went to Chicago and escaped to Canada. Kilrain abandoned his train in Indiana. Both will probably be arrested upon arrival at home.

TEN BROECK SCARED.

Mavri ran a mile at Chicago, last Friday, in 1:39 4-5. Ten Broeck, in his great mile race against time in Louisville in 1877, made 1:39. Mavri comes nearest that of any horse that has ever run before or since. Ten Broeck's marvelous race. In this age of equine wonders, there is no telling when some "hoss" may win the honors from old man Harper's great animal.

BOTHERED ABOUT THE CHANDLER-BLACKBURN EAR PULLING.

The Bluegrass Blade, of Lexington, says: "I can conceive of no angle of vision from which the achievement of Senator Blackburn can be made to reflect any glory on the State of Kentucky. Of course there was no argument in it, and after the thing had been done there was no logical sequitur that required the conclusion that Blackburn was right and Chandler wrong. On the other hand the performance can not come under the head of anything recognized in gymnastics, athletics or pugilism, even if the knowledge of these arts were supposed to recommend a man as a United States Senator, for it is specially stated that Chandler was a small man and it is hardly to be supposed that Senator Blackburn would have tried that experiment on some such man as Congressman John Morrissey in his palmy days."

CHANGE THE CONSTITUTION.

Gov. Buckner refuses to send a copy of Kentucky's constitution to the Paris Exposition. He does not want them to think across the water, that slavery still exists in Kentucky. In this he is perfectly right, unless he should write an essay and file it with the constitution, in the way of an apology. Who, in the State, does not think that the constitution of Kentucky should be changed?—Owen News.

The above is only one of many reasons why the constitution of Kentucky ought to be changed. A man in a foreign country, to read our constitution, would think slavery exists here. So much has been said about State Rights that a foreigner is led to believe that the State constitution is supreme. Besides, a national constitution is not always found in a foreign country. England, for instance, has no specific constitution, like ours, apart from its general laws. There are many other countries like England. Foreigners do not desire to locate in a country of slavery. How can Kentucky have emigration from foreign countries as long as her constitution sanctions slavery?

Very State in the Union has a better last constitution, since in 1862 it was changed. Let us up and do it.

A CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR.

Never before did the middle of July find both parties without a candidate for the State Senate. Such is the case at this writing. The Republican convention is called for this day, and the Democratic convention for Next Saturday. Is it fear or indifference, or what? If indifference, why? We can see no good reason for either—in fact, no reason at all. The Democratic party must have a candidate, and we believe it will have one. There are numbers of good and popular men who can win the race with all ease. Two weeks only will remain for the canvass, after the convention of Saturday, and the candidate cannot be subjected to any great worry or cost. Still has a strong Democratic candidate for Representative, and that county with Madison will elect our candidate, no matter what Rockcastle may do. Bring forth a big gun.

McCREARY.

Gov. McCreary answered Mr. Colson's speech at Shelbyville and when he was through the young man from Pineville felt he had gone through a threshing machine. Don't monkey with a buzz-saw is advice Mr. Colson seems to have ignored, if he ever heard it.—Stanford Journal.

If Gov. McCreary wants to go back to Congress again, he can go. If he wants to go to the United States Senate he can go. He has been tried long enough in both State and National positions to convince the people that he is prompt, honorable, competent and ready for any emergency. Like gold, the often he is run through the crucible the purer he becomes.—Lancaster News.

McCreary's abilities are of the useful kind. He is a good business man, a hard worker, in and what position he may be placed he contrives to command respect. He is not a great orator, but when he speaks his remarks are appropriate and to the point. Justice John M. Harlan was considered as a first-class orator, but in the canvass of 1875 Mr. McCreary was so far master of the podium that he completely got the better of Mr. Harlan. Many persons who, like the writer, heard their joint discussion at Campbellville will be prepared to confirm this statement. Mr. McCreary always knows what he is talking about and does not "slip over," two characteristics which are conspicuously wanting to some of our public men.—Lancaster Standard.

UP EAST.

Mrs. M. De G. Forman Writes Entertainingly of "Calchah" and Its People.

BOSTON, MASS., June 9th, 7 A. M. Yesterday I visited Cambridge. The Memorial Hall is a specimen of handsome architecture, with tablets let in the wall in memorial of Cambridge that fell in the civil war. The stained windows are fine, and the rainbow hues admitted lend austere grandeur to the scene. We went up stairs into the gallery and saw 600 students at lunch.

The library building is of massive gray stone, and the beautiful painted buttresses remind one of a Gothic cathedral. The Agassiz Museum entertained me more than any thing else. One wing of the immense building has the Fauna of different countries arranged in special rooms: Africa, Asia, Europe, North America, South America, each has a separate room, and I was surprised and pleased to see the birds of South America more brilliant and gorgeous than those of any other country. The little ones fascinated me. There was one little one, the Reufugent wood nymph, with brilliant green plumage and a bright blue breast; another of changing green plumage, called the Sapphire, and how beautiful these must be flashing in the sunlight. In a glass case are skeletons arranged in this order, viz: two monkeys, male and female, orangoutang, gorilla, an Indian, an African, a Chinese, an Anglo-Saxon. The case is labeled "Primates." It is startling to trace the analogy between the skeletons.

The sea flowers are the most exquisite I ever saw. While I was standing by the case, some women came up and exclaimed, "What beautiful works of art! they were made in this country!" These flowers make one long to understand the mysteries of the sea. I visited the Longfellow home, was admitted into his study. It is as he left it. His writing desk with a large blotter on top, three or four paper cutters, books everywhere on the table, the chair at the desk with green hair in bottom very much worn, also around the room are books of his friends and loved authors.

There is a portrait of Longfellow, painted by his son, upon which hangs a laurel wreath. There is a handsome black chair of wood presented to him on his 70th birthday by the Sunday-school children of Cambridge. How I should have loved to linger in that room, the spirit of Longfellow everywhere, but the servant girl was waiting.

In the room opposite the study, Washington slept and received in 1776. On the stair-case stands the old clock that kept time when W. was there. The house is a sweet, yellow cottage, porches on each end, and roses climbing over the front door. There is a brightly polished brass knocker on the door. I went to back again. There are so many buildings at Harvard that one is bewildered. Last evening the lady from Philadelphia arrived. She is charming. We went into the parlor after dinner. Had confessions, talked about religion, politics, literature, &c., and on the whole spent a most delightful evening. Everybody laughed, was merry and happy.

The Philadelphia lady will go with me to Concord next Friday.

Boston, June 10th, 8 P. M. On reaching the school building (at Bridgewater) we found several teachers standing at the door, handsomely dressed, ready to welcome us. We were conducted through several rooms decorated with ferns and daisies and buttercups, then into the dining-hall where we enjoyed a delightful lunch of lobster salad, bread, chocolate, coffee and strawberries. The teachers served the guests. After lunch we went to the school building, where were 40 or 50 pretty dressed girls to receive us. There we heard the exercises of which I send you a program. The reading from Dickens and the recitation in French were particularly fine. After the school exercises, Mr. Mead gave us a charming address, in which he said that Kant, the ablest and deepest thinker of modern times, was never beyond the district in which he was born, but he made the best use of his opportunities, and studied bits of nature and specimens of men until he knew nature and man. So we can study other countries thro' pictures and books. The two noblest missions for woman are in the school-room and at the head of a family. It is her duty to teach religion, politics, and to educate, and the home is the sphere in which she can do these things. One should think the most of his country, city or town, and also of his profession. For instance, people say that a man born in Boston thinks he need not be born again. He quoted beautiful poems from Whitier and Lowell. As it was not a connected discourse, I cannot give a synopsis. He said he was to be the Post-script of Mr. Loug, ex-Governor, who was not present. After the address, I met Mr. Mead, who made himself very agreeable. He is a very handsome, distinguished-looking man. On our return he pointed out to me the house in which John and Samuel Adams were born, and the church in which they are buried. He showed me the May-pole which Hawthorne has immortalized. Mr. Mead has written a delightful book, "The Philosophy of Carlyle." He promised to call to see me, which I hope he will do, as we both enjoy talking about the Rhine and Germany.

This morning I went to the N. E. Conservatory, and gave Carrie's letter to the lady. She was very polite, sent for Miss Brown and Miss Smith, who came down. When we were leaving Miss Corrydon gave us tickets to a grand concert to-morrow evening, which I hope to enjoy. For this pleasure I am indebted to Carrie, for which I present my thanks.

BOSTON, June 21st, 8 P. M. I have just returned from a most charming day at Concord. This morning Mrs. Ware prepared a most delightful lunch for Miss K. Mrs. Comby (the Philadelphia lady) and myself and we took the 9 o'clock train for Concord, reaching there at 10. A more delightful day I never spent. As I shall try to-night to prepare an article on the events and sights of the day for the Concord Journal, which I shall submit to you, I shall not give you an account. It is a town full of literary and historic interest. But more anon.

Yesterday I visited the Perkins Institute for the blind, heard recitations, singing and instrumental music. One girl sang as sweetly and joyously as a bird. It was like a happy warble or pouring out of the soul.

Last evening we had a most pleasant hour at the concert in the Conservatory.

It is probable that I shall leave here next Friday 25, for New York, remain a few days, and then go to Burlington, Vt., to the summer school of languages. I am having a charming time.

BOSTON, June 24th, 7 A. M. I went yesterday to hear Dr. Edward Everett Hale, of whose sermon I give you an account. He is a fine-looking man of strong build, of rugged and grizzly mien. He wears a heavy black silk gown. I do not like him or his preaching.

Last evening I heard a beautiful, spiritual exposition of the last chapter of Mark. Dr. Horrick, a Congregational preacher, expounds the S. S. lesson for the following Sabbath. His touching, sweet words went right to the heart. What a contrast to the cold, formal sermon of the morning!

SABBATH, June 23rd, 10:30 A. M. Dr. Edward Everett Hale. Text: I John, 1-5. "God is Light." A pretty discourse on the beauties of nature and art and man's obligation to enjoy them. Religion is making the best use of one's opportunities for enjoyment in a pure sense, and an earnest effort to elevate humanity and make it better. The conclusion was a dialogue between the recording angel and a departed Bostonian.

A. Where are you from?
B. Boston.
A. Over that city spans a blue sky than which none is bluer, on the one side stretches a weird blue of green hills, on the other is heard the deep rhythm of the infinite ocean. Have you enjoyed these?

B. No. I was getting ready to enjoy them, but was called away too soon.
A. To Boston are committed the educational interests of the world, the elevation of humanity, and broad sciences of benevolence. What share have you taken in this work?
B. I beg your pardon, sir, but I was not prepared. I expected to do my part when I reached seventy.

A. You have a wife and children?
B. How much have you enjoyed their society?
A. I left home at 8 a. m., and returned at 8 p. m., when the children were in bed. I have not had time for these things.

A. If you have not made use of the enjoyment of earth you can not be entrusted with the higher enjoyments of Heaven. Seek your abiding place elsewhere.
What sort of religion is this? When death robs us of our dear ones, or disease bids us suffer our Master's will, can we draw solace from the blue sky, the mountain or the sea?

I felt that the whole service was an insult to the Saviour of mankind, and I came away with sorrow for them and gratitude for our own blessed religion.

I was told that Dr. Hale was an orthodox Unitarian, or, in other words, a Unitarian, else I should not have attended the church.

The cleansing blood of the Redeemer is completely ignored.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

Notice is hereby given to all teachers of public schools in Madison county that Teachers' Institutes will be held as follows:

The White Teachers' Institute will be held in Richmond for five days, beginning on Monday, August 19th. The Colored Teachers' Institute will be held in Richmond for five days, beginning on Monday, August 26th. All teachers are required by law to attend.

Mrs. A. T. MILLON, County Superintendent.

The many remarkable cures Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes are sufficient proof that it does possess peculiar curative powers.

CONCERNING FARMERS.

In New York, July 1st, 96 horses sold for $113,775, an average of $1,185.

In Lincoln county, 78 mule colts sold at an average of $70.

In Lincoln county, 250 ewes sold at $2.75 per head; 80 sold at $3.25; 100 lambs sold at $4.65 and 10 at $4.25.

Guy, the famous black gelding, trotted a mile at Cleveland, O., in 2:11, beating his record a quarter of a second.

For the week ending July 4th, Baltimore shipped to foreign countries $6,614 barrels of flour, 33,029 bushels of wheat, 102,223 bushels of corn.

J. K. Magibben & Co., of Lair, sold to western parties, the chestnut filly, Neva C., 3-years-old, by Springfield, dam Europa by imp. Hurrah, for $1,000.

Prices are so much better in Europe for cattle that during the next few months there is to be an unusually large exportation of stock from the United States.

Hogs in Woodford and Scott counties sold, last week, at 4 to 4 1/2 cents. More than three hundred changed hands. They averaged in different lots 157, 175 and 128 pounds.

Joe Kimbrough, of Harrison county, near Cynthiana, threshed 394 sacks of wheat from 20 acres, making 7 1/2 bushels per acre. The field was measured and in tobacco last year.

Mr. Robert Rogers sold 109 lambs to Henry Bell, of Scott's Station, on Tuesday of last week, averaging 8 1/2 pounds. The price received for them was $5.25 per hundred.—Shelbyville Sentinel.

In Louisville, one day last week, forty-two cows, heifers and heifer calves (some of the cows were old and some of the calves very young) brought $2,970—average, $70.71. One inbred Wanderer bull brought $40.

A bay yearling colt by Nutwood, dam Georgia, 2:20, by George Wilkes, second dam Kitty Patchen, by Mambrino Patchen, third dam Betty Brown, by Mambrino Patchen, has been sold for $5,000.

F. B. Harper, Nantua Street, Midway, Ky., has sold to F. Robinson, New York, the colt Early Dawn, 4 years old, by Ten Broeck, dam Early Light by Longfellow, her dam Fanny Wells by imp. Sovereign, for $3,000.

N. Hadden, Jr., of Kiddleville, says he has a young jack colt that can't be beaten. It is the third jack colt of a Jennet for which he paid $25. He has already sold one for $1,000 and has two left.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

The Georgetown Times says: A movement has been started looking to the establishment of a wine factory in Georgetown. Already $70,000 has been subscribed by about eighteen citizens of the town and county. It is desired to increase the capital stock to $100,000, (when an organization will be effected) and it is believed that the amount can be raised with but little difficulty.

At Kempton Park, July 6th, the Princess of Wales' Stakes (handicap) of 2,000 sovs., the owner of the second to receive 100 sovs. out of the Stakes, for three-year olds and upward, winning penalties, seven furlongs, was won by a neck by the Duke of Portland's four-year old bay colt Johnny Morgan, by Springfield, dam Lady Mar.

Says the Cynthiana Democrat: Does it pay to keep sheep? In the fall of 1888 one of our farmers bought 18 head of sheep for $45, and up to date, besides killing several muttons and keeping wool enough for knitting yarn for a large family, has sold wool and lambs for the amount of $920. He now has left twenty ewes worth $100. We are sure it does pay to keep sheep and if anyone doubts it we have the figures to prove it.

One of the largest shipments of stock ever sent from Harrodsburg was by Burns & Thompson. The cattle have been fed at J. B. Thompson's distillery. The distillery closed its season's run Saturday night, and the cattle were shipped direct to Chicago. There were 492 in the lot, all large and fat. In the lot were sixty Holsteins, all as black as crows and fat as moles. Mr. Burns is probably the largest buyer of fat cattle in the State. In Central Kentucky alone he has bought over ten thousand head. The shipment from here took twenty-eight cars. The cattle had been penned up at the distillery since January.

At one of the meetings of the British Association a paper was read on a plan of raising large stones for the purpose of building huge masses of masonry, and which was supposed to be the means employed in building the pyramids, although the precise method adopted by the mighty builders of the valley of the Nile was admitted to be a vexed question. The supposition is that the lifting power was applied from below, the stone being raised by a tilting process. One end of the stone would first of all be raised from the ground by means of powerful levers, which might be of considerable length and worked by a large number of men.

After getting the stone to the proper height, a slab of stone or metal could be inserted, and a similar process adopted with the other end of the stone. So, by alternately working at the bottom and the top, the height might be attained. Then, by the use of wedges and rollers, the stone might be got into position. Another method suggested was by means of slightly inclined planes formed of strong timber-work or even masonry, working the stones up on rollers by leverage applied behind. There does not seem to be any suggestion of any direct lifting power applied from above. The question is certainly one involved in considerable obscurity.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce the persons, names and residences of the persons indicated, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR COUNTY CLERK, L. W. HILL, J. P. OLDHAM.

FOR JAILER, JOHN F. WAGERS.

JAMES C. LACKY, SAMUEL HIGGINS, THOMAS S. FERRELL, JOHN HILL, C. A. BRADY, GEORGE W. MAZIN.

FOR AMBASSOR, A. J. WILLOUGHBY, W. J. HARVEY, C. R. TUDOR, JOSEPH EMBRY, CONWAY BOZIER, D. C. NICE.

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT, J. B. HARRIS, MRS. A. T. MILLON.

$60 Sold by Drugists, 75c, 3-7.

William Elliot who has had consumption for some time sent for a preacher Sunday, professed the Saviour and was baptized in Round-done Sunday evening. He was unable to walk and was carried to the water in an arm chair. Brother Parker, assisted by Brother Wallace, baptized him. As he came out of the water a smile lighted his face and then he whispered that he was ready. Many tears were shed by the congregation who knew that death would soon relieve him of his sufferings. He was found dead in his chair Monday evening and was buried in Livingston grave yard Tuesday.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

By Glover & Barrett Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the past week just closed amount to $275 hhds. with receipts for the same period 221 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 69,070 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1888, to date amount to $6,700,000.

The offerings of burley tobacco on our market this week have been very large and prices have been fully sustained all along the line with and improvement in prices on some grades and we find it necessary to advance quotations on some of the classifications. From many localities we hear the report that the growing crop is in rather bad condition on account of the excessive rains and we are beginning to see a little bad effect of the wet weather on some of the crop of last year.

The following quotations fairly represent our market on Burley tobacco: Trash (Dark) and damaged tobacco $2.50 to $3.00. Colony Trash $4.50 to $7.50. Common Logs not costly, $4.00 to $5.00. Colony Logs, $5.00 to $11.00. Common Leaf, $5.00 to $13.00. Medium to good leaf, $13.00 to $18.00. Select or wrappery leaf, $18.00 to $22.00.

Local Produce Markets.

CORRECTED WEEKLY BY COVINGTON ARNOLD & SONS, GROCERS, MAIN STREET, RICHMOND, KY.

Beef Cattle, Butcher..... 2 1/2 @ 3 1/2
Hogs..... 4 @ 5 1/2
Sugar Cured Hams..... 14 @ 15
Hacon Hams—Country..... 15

Butter..... 20c
Eggs..... 15c
Wheat..... 60 @ 65
Flour..... $3 00 @ $3 50
Corn per bushel..... 75 @ 100
Oats in sheaf, per too lbs..... 12 1/2 @ 13 1/2
Lard..... 12 @ 13
Tallow..... 15 @ 20
Beeswax..... 25 @ 30
Feathers..... 20 @ 40
Timothy Seed..... 40 @ 50
Orchard Grass..... $1 75
German Millet..... $1 50
Timothy Seed..... $2 25
Clover Seed..... $5 75
Oats in sheaf..... 1 1/2 @ 1 3/4
Choice blue grass seed..... 50 @ 60
Red top seed..... 25 @ 30
Sweet Potatoes..... 75
Irish Potatoes..... 40 @ 50

LIVE STOCK MARKET REPORT.

By GREENE & EMBURY.

Live Stock Commission Merchants at Cincinnati Union Stock Yards and Covington Stock Yards.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 15, 1889.

SHIPPING CATTLE.

Good to Extra..... $ 3 85 @ 4 00
Fair to Good..... 3 75 @ 3 85
Common and Rough..... 2 75 @ 3 25
Good to Extra Oxen..... 3 40 @ 3 65
Fair to Good Oxen..... 2 75 @ 3 00
Common and Rough..... 2 25 @ 2 75

BUTCHER CATTLE.

Good to Extra..... $ 3 75 @ 3 85
Fair to Good..... 3 65 @ 3 75
Extra Fat Steers..... 3 50 @ 3 65
Fair to Good Steers..... 3 00 @ 3 50
Good to Extra Cows..... 2 85 @ 3 10
Fair to Good Cows..... 2 25 @ 2 65
Common Cows..... 2 00 @ 2 25
Rough Cows, and Oxen..... 1 00 @ 1 50

BULLS.

Best Shipping..... $ 2 60 @ 2 75
Best Bologna..... 2 25 @ 2 35
Fair Bologna..... 2 00 @ 2 15
Fair to Good Feeders..... 2 00 @ 2 15
Common and Thin..... 1 50 @ 1 75

FEEDERS AND STOCKERS.

Good Extra Steers..... $ 2 00 @ 2 10
Fair to Good Steers..... 1 75 @ 1 85
Good to Extra Heifers..... 2 25 @ 2 50
Common and Thin Stockers..... 1 75 @ 2 25

COWS AND CALVES.

Best Grades..... $ 3 00 @ 4 00
Fair to Good..... 2 50 @ 3 00
Common..... 1 00 @ 1 25
Best Veal Calves..... 4 50 @ 4 75
Fair to Good..... 3 75 @ 4 00
Common and Heavy..... 2 50 @ 3 25

HOGS.

Select Butchers..... $ 4 35 @ 4 40
Fair to Good Packers..... 4 35 @ 4 40
Good to Extra..... 4 50 @ 4 60
Light Pigs..... 4 40 @ 4 50

SPRING LAMBS.

Extra..... $ 5 00 @ 6 00
Common to Good..... 4 00 @ 4 75

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1 per six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 29-29.

IF YOU WANT

A Dress, be it Silk, Satin, Woolen, Sateen, Gingham or Calico, I am the one you want to see.

If you want any Domestic I am the one you want to see.

If you want any Cottonades, Towels, Linens, or anything in the Dry Goods line, I am the one you want to see.

If you want a good Suit of Clothes for a Man, Boy or Child, I am the one that will suit you.

If you want any Shoes, Slippers, or anything for foot wear, I am the one you want to see.

If you want a Hat I can Hat you.

If you want a Carpet I am your Carpet Man.

If you want any Flannel Over-Shirts or Underwear of any kind I will fix you.

For Prices I refer you to my locals, found elsewhere in this paper, as a sample of what I will do. If Low Prices, Polite Clerks, and Good Goods are any inducement, don't fail to come to the GREAT BARGAIN SALE, which now begins.

H. J. STRENG,

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT, J. B. HARRIS, MRS. A. T. MILLON.

$60 Sold by Drugists, 75c, 3-7.

GRAND EXCURSION TO NIAGARA FALLS

VIA K. C. R. R., Tuesday, July 23rd, 1889.

$10.00 TEN DOLLARS ROUND TRIP. $10.00

Special through train without change of Palace Sleepers, Elegant Chair Cars and Day Coaches, leaving Lexington at 1:00 P. M., arriving at Falls early Wednesday morning—under auspices of Ladies of Broadway Christian Church of Lexington, Personally conducted by Mrs. J. S. SHOUSE, with a Co.'s Agent in charge of train.

TICKETS GOOD FIVE DAYS.

Early application should be made to S. F. B. MORSE, G. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio, or either of the undersigned for Sleeping or Chair Car space. SPECIAL

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1889.

More rain and the corn will be privileges will be reaped Saturday.

Abundance of rain hereabouts the will have a hop the first night of the improvements.

Mr. Jacobs has removed his shop to Second Street.

Mr. Bros. have sold their mill at Ford and Whipple Lumber Co., of commissioner Barman will sell the the Rainy land, on the premises, the attention of teachers is called to announcements for county teachers' in to-day's issue.

Mr. Hendricks, colored, forged an order

Col. T. S. Moberly to W. B. Benny,

Tuesday, and is in jail.

Mr. Joe Creemore, of Wyoming Terterritory, formerly of this county, was here celebrating the fall of the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the Pair Ground Improvements.

The new half-mile track is progressing satisfactorily. A large and well-constructed stable is approaching completion. Next year, the company proposes to erect five other large stables and a magnificent grand stand with a new fair ring. Whether the present amphitheatre will be continued as a floral art and machinery building, or demolished, is not determined now, but most probably it will be continued. By the fall of next year, the R. N. I. & B. R. R. will add its facilities for passengers and articles for exhibition, and enlarged capacity all around at the fair grounds will be necessary.

Real Quar.

You know that "figures won't lie." It is as equally well established that every voter represents a family of five persons. In one of our neighboring towns, there was an election held on the question of water works. With several weeks of canvassing, including speeches, newspaper articles, and much of the usual political machinery, the result was a tie. The population of the town was 7,000. But figures won't lie, and the claim of 7,000 won't do. But when they get street cars and a college, and a steam laundry, and 3,815 more people, they'll have 7,000.

Transfers of Town Lots Since June 1st.

RICHMOND.

J. S. Boggs to Caroline Stone, $350.

S. C. Powell to B. E. Bennett, $200.

J. G. Cole to N. B. Deatherage, $1,600.

Commissioner to J. S. Collins, $7,000.

Commissioner to J. B. Willis, $2,000.

R. D. Forman to H. B. Drillingham, $325.

John Farley to J. S. Collins, $1,200.

S. D. Parrish to G. B. Millon, $2,000.

Bush & Wiggins to J. W. Rymer, $250.

S. D. Parrish to N. B. Deatherage, $3,500.

Parrish & Wiggins to Nettie White, $250.

J. S. Collins to Parrish & Cunningham, $500.

J. G. Cole to Light Co. to Collins & Chennault, $800.

J. B. Boggs to G. W. Evans, $550.

BREKA.

John G. Fee to Monroe Ballard, $500.

Commissioner to S. D. Parrish, $200.

Berea College to E. Robinson, $50.

TRANSFERS OF FARMS SINCE JUNE 1.

N. H. Fain to Jno. Bennett, 50 acres, $300.

F. L. Bybee to Waco Mining Co., 40 acres, $200.

Jackson Eads to Richard Powell, 55 acres, $1,250.

Jackson Eads to W. T. Olds, 35 acres, $725.

W. C. Griggs to C. C. Griggs, 90% acres, $725.

M. H. Hill to H. Rhodes, to acre, $500.

Sherrill to Perry Jones, 1 1/2 acres, $41.

M. C. West to A. W. Creemore, 60 acres, $35.

J. A. H. Frazier to D. C. Doty, 110 acres, $1,750.

Talton Newby to John Heathman, 3 acres, $125.

A. Yates' Devises to Rich Chennault, 7 acres, $160.

Commissioner to R. T. McGord, 370% acres, $5,357.

Commissioner to Ned Blythe, 24% acres, $20.

Commissioner to P. F. Prewitt, 50 acres, $135.

Commissioner to Eliza Cosby, 4 1/2 acres, $43.

Commissioner to S. D. Robinson, 54% acres, $47.

Commissioner to Arch Stapp, 43 acres, $258.

Commissioner to John Preston, 60% acres, $415.

Commissioner to W. H. Bennett, 95 acres, $1,003.

Commissioner to Josiah Bendel, 44 acres, $56.

Commissioner to Charles Lester, 157 acres, $564.

Azariah Fennell to John Grady, 3/4 acre, $50.

Chilton Sanders to S. D. Carpenter, 67% acres, $840.

Parrish to Shelby Jett, 1/2 acre, $80.

Julia A. Ross to J. T. Long, 12 acres, $175.

W. H. Spanhower to Shelton Land, 59 acres, $1,250.

T. J. Smith to Henry Lisle, 14 acres, $600.

J. C. Chennault to C. D. Chennault, 18 1/2 acres, $2,000.

J. C. Burnam to George Morton, 53 1/2 acres, $140.

J. C. Hagan to Lancaster National Bank, 33% acres, $20,302.

How It Is Done.

THE CLIMAX man found his way out to the Fair grounds, one afternoon last week, where Mr. E. T. Powell, the railroad contractor, is building the half-mile track. At one point there is a cut ten or twelve feet deep, and about seven feet of the bottom of this cut is limestone. Blasting of course is employed. Five drill holes had been made on a circular line across the cut, and some ten feet from the ragged edge of the rock that was being removed. Four of these holes were loaded with black blasting powder, but the fifth and last on the north side of the cut had developed into a sort of cave, and it was being poured a hundred pounds of Judon powder, a sort of soft looking substance. While a man held the mouth of a big sack of Judon over the hole, Mr. Powell, with a lighted cigar in one hand, and a powder horn in the other, took the powder out of the sack with the other hand, occasionally taking the cigar in his mouth drawing a few whiffs here and there. The CLIMAX man had accompanied him, and now that it was like dynamite, would not explode with the touch of fire, only by friction or concussion, but he didn't know how many grains of black powder might be lurking in the Judon, and a little speck of fire from the cigar could easily ignite the young Petersburg, or more classically, Guy Fawkes. He managed to linger near until the hole was loaded and the wires attached. Fuse is not used. A steel insulated wire with a cap on the end is inserted into a dynamite cartridge, and the cartridge is dropped into the hole on the powder, and the wire is pulled to fill the top of the hole. Two of the wires were run out several hundred feet and attached to a harmless looking red box about the size of a big family Bible. By this time Capt. Powell had driven on the other side of the grounds, Speed Smith was a mile away and Capt. Potts was close at hand. The workmen in the cut had departed, and the males knew that there was a fuse burning, and had scampered away. Even the picks and shovels had somehow gotten out. There was a deathly stillness all about the premises. THE CLIMAX man stood by the operator, and just as the operator took hold of the powder, he pulled it out of the hole, and the CLIMAX man asked, "Oh, that big blast never really killed the operator?" and the fellow replied, "yes, and all those who are near him." Then he remarked, "here goes!" and pushed down the anger-handled dasher. About twenty-

PERSONAL.

Miss Lydia McKee has returned from school at St. Catharines.

Mrs. Dr. J. W. Pratt, of Louisville,

formerly of this place, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. John E. Garner and daughter, of Winchester, are visiting Mrs. B. W. Turner.

Mrs. Haves, of Oakfield, N. J., formerly Miss Fannie Freeman, is visiting her old home here.

Mr. W. C. Wherritt, formerly of this place, recently of Versailles, has removed to Kansas City.

Mr. Sidney Johnson, of Arkansas,

formerly a student here, arrived on Thursday to visit old friends.

Dr. M. C. Heath has returned from a long business stay in Georgia, and will be here constantly from this time forward.

Miss Hale, of Stanford, Miss Rowland and Miss Sharp, of Lexington, are visiting Miss Mollie Fife and Miss Annie White.

Miss Annie Baldwin, of Richmond, is the guest of Miss Mary Willie Hastings.

N. Naysville street—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Mr. Frank Walker, of Atlanta, and two nieces, daughters of Mr. Charley Walker, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Dr. Walker.

Miss Annie Phelps, of Fayette county, and Miss Eva Phelps, of Madison, are guests of Mrs. E. G. Brooks this week—Midway Clipper.

Rev. Dr. Douglas returned last Monday from Europe, where he has spent three months traveling in England and France, and attending the Paris Exposition—Versailles Star.

Major Thos. H. Shelby is exceedingly ill, and the gravest apprehensions are felt as to his condition. His stomach is in such a condition that nothing he takes is retained—Lexington Gazette.

Dr. John Leonard Harris will not be in his office to-day (Friday) and Saturday. He left this morning to visit his father and mother, who are stopping a few days in Richmond, Ky., on their way to Virginia—Versailles Star.

Miss Lizzie McClintock, Sue Marshall and Sallie McIntyre, of Millersburg, Miss Minnie Walker, of Richmond, and Miss Bean, of Winchester, left last week for Lake Chautauque, New York, to remain six weeks—Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

Our McLean, Illinois, correspondent says: Mrs. Jettie C. Cobb, of Pontiac, Ill., spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Dillard Cox, of Mt. Hope. She returned home accompanied by Misses Maggie and Maudie Cox, and Miss Sally Noble, all of Madison county, Ky.

Miss Emma Offutt gave a delightful entertainment to a number of her friends at the residence of her father, Mr. E. N. Offutt, on Wednesday evening last. To meet her guests, Misses Vevia Forsythe and Minnie Bohon, of Harrodsburg, and Miss Rella Harber, of Richmond, who were her school-mates at Staunton, Va. The porch was illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and from the street presented a pretty scene. The house was from eight o'clock until one. The rain did not keep the young people away, and at the appointed hour the house was a scene of life and gaiety. Bally's hand played its sweetest and best, and the smooth carnyassed floors afforded delightful facilities for dancing. At half past eleven o'clock dainty refreshments were served—Georgetown Times.

Shanahan & Hanger have written to Col. Bennett Young's contract from Lawrenceburg to Lexington will soon close up, and several hundred men will be wanting another job. They will no doubt be put to work between Richmond and Irvine by the middle of August. The entire force of Shanahan & Hanger will be ready to move at an early day.

The Monon now enters Louisville by the K. & I. bridge. Col. Young says of the change: "The Louisville Southern and the L. N. A. & C. are now so united by this new arrangement as to be practically one line and system. It was awkward to have the contract between the Southern and Monon, and yet no contract between the Monon and the bridge. There is now no contract between the L. N. A. & C. by this arrangement, has terminals in Louisville better than those of any competing line."

The Railroad Gazette table shows 1,410 miles of new main line track built in the first six months of this year in the United States, against 2,950 in the corresponding period of last year. This is about the same ratio as that shown at the end of the first quarter. If this ratio is maintained throughout the year the total new mileage would be about 3,500 miles. The Southern States have built 45 per cent. of the total new construction of this year; the Northwestern States 24 per cent. The characteristic feature of the year's building is that it is in short lengths by many companies.

MISS ALICE PEEK has gone to her home in Vermont.

E. A. Devore and family have left for their former home in Southern Ohio.

Miss Jennie Lester left on Tuesday last for Martha's Vineyard to spend the summer.

Principal Hunting and family have gone to Camp Nelson to rusticate a few days.

The W. C. T. U. are planning for a Children's Temperance Day in the near future.

Mrs. E. L. Kerby is recovering from severe sickness, which gave her friends so much anxiety.

Green, son of T. J. Robinson, in jumping from a moving train, fell and sprained his arm seriously.

Miss Kate Gilbert will spend the entire season at Chautauque attending the school of languages.

Mr. Klunkitch, of Chattanooga, Tenn., has moved his family here and is at present living in the house of Prof. Fairchild.

The Fourth was observed in Berea with speaking and music and fireworks at night. Yankee Doodle with Mrs. Doodle was the "hooray" song, and the streets to the great delight of all the boys. They were followed by John Bull leading a pet lion.

Dyspepsia.

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and out of order to self destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organs, removes the false feeling, creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It will do you good.

Mr. Kert Campbell has the box field of tobacco—200 acres. It has 15 leaves to the stalk and is being topped.

PERSONAL.

Miss Lydia McKee has returned from school at St. Catharines.

Mrs. Dr. J. W. Pratt, of Louisville,

formerly of this place, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. John E. Garner and daughter,

of Winchester, are visiting Mrs. B. W. Turner.

Mrs. Haves, of Oakfield, N. J., formerly Miss Fannie Freeman, is visiting her old home here.

Mr. W. C. Wherritt, formerly of this place, recently of Versailles, has removed to Kansas City.

Mr. Sidney Johnson, of Arkansas,

formerly a student here, arrived on Thursday to visit old friends.

Dr. M. C. Heath has returned from a long business stay in Georgia, and will be here constantly from this time forward.

Miss Hale, of Stanford, Miss Rowland and Miss Sharp, of Lexington, are visiting Miss Mollie Fife and Miss Annie White.

Miss Annie Baldwin, of Richmond, is the guest of Miss Mary Willie Hastings.

N. Naysville street—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Mr. Frank Walker, of Atlanta, and two nieces, daughters of Mr. Charley Walker, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Dr. Walker.

Miss Annie Phelps, of Fayette county, and Miss Eva Phelps, of Madison, are guests of Mrs. E. G. Brooks this week—Midway Clipper.

Rev. Dr. Douglas returned last Monday from Europe, where he has spent three months traveling in England and France, and attending the Paris Exposition—Versailles Star.

Major Thos. H. Shelby is exceedingly ill, and the gravest apprehensions are felt as to his condition. His stomach is in such a condition that nothing he takes is retained—Lexington Gazette.

Dr. John Leonard Harris will not be in his office to-day (Friday) and Saturday. He left this morning to visit his father and mother, who are stopping a few days in Richmond, Ky., on their way to Virginia—Versailles Star.

Miss Lizzie McClintock, Sue Marshall and Sallie McIntyre, of Millersburg, Miss Minnie Walker, of Richmond, and Miss Bean, of Winchester, left last week for Lake Chautauque, New York, to remain six weeks—Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

Our McLean, Illinois, correspondent says: Mrs. Jettie C. Cobb, of Pontiac, Ill., spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Dillard Cox, of Mt. Hope. She returned home accompanied by Misses Maggie and Maudie Cox, and Miss Sally Noble, all of Madison county, Ky.

Miss Emma Offutt gave a delightful entertainment to a number of her friends at the residence of her father, Mr. E. N. Offutt, on Wednesday evening last. To meet her guests, Misses Vevia Forsythe and Minnie Bohon, of Harrodsburg, and Miss Rella Harber, of Richmond, who were her school-mates at Staunton, Va. The porch was illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and from the street presented a pretty scene. The house was from eight o'clock until one. The rain did not keep the young people away, and at the appointed hour the house was a scene of life and gaiety. Bally's hand played its sweetest and best, and the smooth carnyassed floors afforded delightful facilities for dancing. At half past eleven o'clock dainty refreshments were served—Georgetown Times.

Shanahan & Hanger have written to Col. Bennett Young's contract from Lawrenceburg to Lexington will soon close up, and several hundred men will be wanting another job. They will no doubt be put to work between Richmond and Irvine by the middle of August. The entire force of Shanahan & Hanger will be ready to move at an early day.

KENTUCKY CENTRAL R. R.

BLUE GRASS ROUTE.

Shortest and Quickest Route from Central Kentucky to All Points North, East, West and South-west.

—FAST LINE BETWEEN—

Lexington & Cincinnati.

Schedule in Effect May 12th, 1889.

SOUTH-BOUND.	No. 2.	No. 3.	No. 4.
Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.

NORTH-BOUND.	No. 3.	No. 4.	No. 5.
Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.

MAYSVILLE BRANCH.	No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.

NORTH-BOUND.	No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.

SOUTH-BOUND.	No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.

TRAINS NOTED.	No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.	Lex. Cincinnati.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Lex. Cincinnati.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.

TRAINS NOTED.—No. 1 runs daily between Lexington and Cincinnati. No. 2 runs daily between Lexington and Cincinnati. No. 3 runs daily between Lexington and Cincinnati.

IMPORTANT.—Trains of this line now arrive and depart from the Central Union Station, Cincinnati, making connection for all points North and South.

Through tickets and baggage checked to any point reached by a railroad.

For full particulars call on any agent of the Company, or on W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

W. L. MCKINNON, E. H. BACON, Trav. Pass. Agt., Lexington, Ky.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum and phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall Street, New York.

MAKING BASE-BALL BATS.

A Great Industry Which Has Grown Up in the Western States.

The material which goes into base-ball bats comes principally from Indiana, that is the better quality wood. Second growth ash is the standard, and this must be carefully selected and perfectly seasoned. The best bats are made from this Indiana ash, cut the usual length and split, splitting guaranteeing great straightness of grain.

The forest ash comes next in point of excellence, although the salt-water ash, from the coast of Maine, is considered in the East its equal, and great many bats are made from it. The forest ash comes from all parts of the country wherever ash is likely to grow, as the demand for lumber by the bat-makers sometimes exceeds the supplies of well-seasoned, prime Indiana ash, and they are compelled to take such ash lumber as they can get for the manufacture of the second and third grades.

Baseball enters into the manufacture of base-ball bats to a large extent, and is called American willow. There was a time when English willow bats were considered by ball-players to be the best material for bats, but there is very little of this used now, and none at all by professional ball-players.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

For the purpose of making bats, the wood is cut into the shape of a bat, and is then turned out yearly from this mill.

VERY EMBARRASSING.

The Case of a Boston Girl's Agency of Maidens Tendency.

"Emerson, you see him at once," said the young man, tenderly.

"It is nothing. Ticklowell," replied the girl, hesitatingly, a faint flush mounting to her pale Bostonian forehead. "You were saying—"

"I was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

"That was about to say," he resumed, "to carry out the postulate that I suggested a few moments ago, that the subjective plane of human cognition and experience is as real, as recognizable, as the objective plane."

FULL OF FUN.

—Good women are the salt of the earth, when they are not too fresh.—

N. O. Piquette.

—Somebody says a man can't get roaring drunk on water. Well, so he can on salt.—Rockester Post-Express.

—Or all the dirty families in this big world of sin, the dirtiest has just moved in.

—The house you're just moved in.—Danville Breeze.

—Ticket Agent (at railroad station). "I wish some body would be invented to keep men away from the ladies' window." By-stander—"Easy enough. Put the sign, 'For Ladies Only' on the other window."—N. Y. Weekly.

—Mrs. Gadd—"That new family next door to you must be pretty well off; they've got a planer." Mrs. Gabli—"Hush! They don't own it; it's rented." "How d'ye know?" "By the way they bang on it."—Philadelphia Record.

—Artist (holding out a photograph). "Don't you want your picture taken?" "No, I don't want it." "Why not?" "I don't care for any." "My brother had his taken three times, but he was innocent every time but once."—Texas Siftings.

—Diner-out—"Waiter, how's this? I have just discovered a collar-button in my soup." Waiter—"Can I do you'd be lucky man. We have pie soup Mondays and Wednesdays. A handsome gift in every twentieth plate, sah."—Once a Week.

—John—"Slip the cable, is practicing a good deal of self-denial lately." Brown—"How's that?" "I should think that he had got on Compo, as you call it."—N. Y. Weekly.

—Elderly epistoler (in upper berth of sleeping-car, peering over)—"Excuse me, sir. Man in lower berth—" "Cosmo." "You're reading that history?" "Yes, father." "Well, you drop it pretty quick, and hustle out with your base-ball bat and go to practicing. If you ain't careful you never will get to be famous."—N. Y. Weekly.

—Young man (applying for situation)—"I have had considerable experience as a commercial traveler, sir. Would you not like to engage me to push your products?" Manufacturer—"Your services will hardly be required. There are already about 7,000,000 men engaged in pushing our products in this country. We manufacture baby carriages."—Burlington Free Press.

—A fool, a barber, and a bald-headed man were traveling together. Losing their way, they were forced to sleep in the open air, and to avert danger it was agreed to watch by turns. The first fell on the barber, who, for amusement, shaved the fool's head while he was sleeping. He then awoke him, and the fool, raising his head to scratch his head, exclaimed: "Here! You have shaved my head, and awakened the bald-headed man instead of me!"—N. Y. Ledger.

COURT-DAY MEMORIES. Peace-Destroying Thoughts That Will Find Expression Now and Then. "Do you know, my dear," she said, suddenly, as she looked up from her needlework, "do you know what day this week will be the twentieth anniversary of our wedding?"

"Is that so?" By George, how time flies! Why, I had no idea of it!" "Yes, I have been married almost twenty long years," she continued, with something of a sigh. "You have been a good husband to me, darling."

"And you have been a blessed little wife to me, Susan. Come here till I kiss you. There!" "I was thinking to-day—I was thinking of—"

"Of that sickly-faced baboon who used to go round the corner of my street, and stare at me?" he interrupted. "What do you mean?"

"Who, but that brace fellow, of course?" "Why, George, he was not such a bad fellow."

"Wasn't, eh? Well, I'd like to know of a worse one." He didn't know enough to show any, and she, who were as good as engaged to him, were as good as engaged to him.

"Yes, George, but you were keeping company at the same time with that Helen Perkins."

"That Helen Perkins! Wasn't Miss Perkins one of the loveliest and prettiest young ladies in St. Louis?" "No, she wasn't! She had teeth like a horse."

"She had, eh? How about that stoop-shouldered, white-headed brace?" "And such big feet as she had! Why, George, she was the laughing-stock of the town."

"Not much she wasn't! She was a young lady who would have made a model wife."

"Then why didn't you marry her, and all her moles, and warts, and mushroom eyes?" "Don't talk that way to me! Her eyes were as nice as yours."

"They wasn't!" "They were! I believe you are sorry you did not marry her."

"And I know you are sorry because you didn't marry that beautiful and accomplished Miss Perkins."

"I am, oh! I thought you said that I had been a good husband to you!" "And didn't you call me your blessed little wife?"

Then he plumped down, and began to sob. "I thought you said that I had been a good husband to you!"

"And didn't you call me your blessed little wife?" "Then he plumped down, and began to sob. "I thought you said that I had been a good husband to you!"

"And didn't you call me your blessed little wife?" "Then he plumped down, and began to sob. "I thought you said that I had been a good husband to you!"

"And didn't you call me your blessed little wife?" "Then he plumped down, and began to sob. "I thought you said that I had been a good husband to you!"

10TH EXHIBITION

OF THE

KIRKSVILLE

Stock Fair Association

TO BE HELD IN BURNAM'S WOODS, NEAR KIRKSVILLE, MADISON CO., KY., ON Friday & Saturday, July 26-27.

FIRST DAY.

Best home-made cheese—special premium by J. D. Beatty, Boone, Shores, Hays, Caps, & Co., Richmond, Ky. $5.00

Best home-made cheese—special premium by J. D. Beatty, Boone, Shores, Hays, Caps, & Co., Richmond, Ky. $5.00

Best home-made cheese—special premium by J. D. Beatty, Boone, Shores, Hays, Caps, & Co., Richmond, Ky. $5.00

Best home-made cheese—special premium by J. D. Beatty, Boone, Shores, Hays, Caps, & Co., Richmond, Ky. $5.00

Best home-made cheese—special premium by J. D. Beatty, Boone, Shores, Hays, Caps, & Co., Richmond, Ky. $5.00